

Kennedy's Tour May Help Deal With DeGaulle

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's just-completed European tour may have improved his hand in dealing with French President Charles de Gaulle.

One of his first chores back home was to brief the Cabinet on the trip and hear from Cabinet secretaries a review of events during his absence, particularly in the civil rights field.

Kennedy's trek through Western Europe was his longest overseas journey as President and it hit a high point during the first three days—in Germany and Communist-encircled Berlin.

Good Will Retained

It was largely because of the President's success in winning massive displays of welcome from the German populace, and convincing statements of solidarity from German leaders, that he feels the trip was worth the effort. He made repeated appeals in Germany for greater European unity keyed to closer cooperation with the United States.

In some quarters here and abroad there have been fears that Germany might be preparing to cast her lot with France and De Gaulle's controversial goal of an independent Europe free of close ties with America.

Although the Franco-German rapprochement is a reality, and one applauded by Kennedy, the reception given the President in Germany demonstrated that the good will of the United States still has a great potency in that country.

No Results In Britain

This fact presumably has not been lost on De Gaulle and his neighbors. In even broader terms, politicians throughout Western Europe can hardly ignore the impact of Kennedy's repeated appearances on home television screens of Atlantic solidarity and doctrine of Atlantic solidarity and cooperation.

Furthermore, Soviet Premier Khrushchev could only have been dismayed by the evidence of strengthened American-German unity.

According to American sources, the German response to policy proposals pushed by Kennedy—including the idea of creating a multilateral nuclear force in the West—was more enthusiastic than anticipated.

All things considered, Kennedy came home convinced that the trip was worthwhile despite claims by some that it was a mistake to visit major nations where governments admittedly are in a state of flux.

However, some who are close to Kennedy still believe his impact at home and abroad would have been greater had he flown back to Washington after his big receptions in Germany and Ireland.

The overnight stay in England produced few if any tangible results from Kennedy's viewpoint. And two days in Italy proved to be anticlimactic following the President's earlier welcomes.

Holiday Travel Expected To Lure 3 1/2 Million Cars

By The Associated Press

Michigan residents will spend the Fourth of July holiday period on lakes, rivers, beaches, park lawns, camp sites—and especially on the highways, where 3.5 million cars are expected during the four days.

The Highway Department predicts motorists will log 743 million vehicle miles on state roads in the four days.

The Weather Bureau predicts they will be encouraged by fine weather Thursday, although the weather may turn sour later in the weekend.

Word from northern Michigan is that they may find "no vacancy" signs on resorts and full camp sites.

The Automobile Club of Michigan says there are indications many people are planning longer trips this year, using part of the state's 1,000 miles of freeway.

The club said route requests from club members planning trips to the Upper Peninsula are 25 per cent above the figure for last year. It said lower Michigan route requests are 30 per cent above 1962 figures.

On the other hand, the club says most people will stay within 60 miles of home, probably breaking all records for attendance at state and local parks.

The club expects about one million people for Detroit-Windsor Freedom Festival activities, the Gold Cup power boat races Sunday and the Detroit Tiger baseball games.

The Conservation Department expects one million persons to visit the state's 68 parks. It predicts that more persons will visit the Upper Peninsula than ever before on a Fourth of July holiday.

Many Michigan cities have saved special events for the holiday period. Petoskey, for example, will dedicate its $15,000 Charles J. Gray Waterfront Center.

Authorities say the heavy traffic north already has started, with noticeable increases on the I-75 freeway and over the Mackinac Straits Bridge.

Airliner Downed In Storm; 7 Dead And 36 Injured

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A twin-engine Mohawk Airlines plane, straining to gain altitude in a raging electrical and hail storm, crashed seconds after take-off Tuesday. Seven persons were killed and 36 injured, seven of them critically.

"It was like flying into the dead of the night," one survivor said from his hospital bed.

"The wind grabbed us the minute we left the ground," said another.

The Martin 404, carrying 40 passengers and a crew of 3, was headed for Newark, N.J. via White Plains, N.Y. It fell into mud about 80 yards off a runway at Rochester-Monroe County Airport, several miles southwest of Rochester.

An investigation was begun by federal aviation officials.

One wingtip apparently struck the ground, a witness said. The plane bounced, broke in two like a matchstick and caught fire. Airport firemen extinguished the flames.

The dead included the pilot, Capt. Richard M. Dennis, 39, Fairview, N.J.; First Officer John W. Neff, 33, Wilmington, Del., and Roy E. Drew, Pelham, N.Y., controller of Sylvania Electric Products Inc.

Richard Baldwin, 26, Danbury, Conn., said the plane hit turbulence when "we got up 10 feet.

Federal Deficit For Fiscal Year May Be Trimmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

LESS RED INK: The government's deficit for the just-completed fiscal year may turn out to be $1.5 billion or so less than was estimated six months ago.

Then administration officials figured the budget would be out of balance by $8.8 billion — and they put a good share of the blame on failure of the economy to get into high gear in 1962.

In the first months of 1963 business suddenly began humming.

A Treasury spokesman said revenues were considerably higher than was anticipated 30 days ago, but he declined to make an estimate.

CHINA TRADE: A group of West Coast businessmen say they have been encouraged by a presidential adviser to attend trade talks with Red Chinese officials in Hong Kong. Not so, says the State Department.

Ernest T. Nash of Woodland, Calif., co-chairman of "The Committee for a Review of Our China Policy" said Monday that the San Francisco World Trade Association has been invited to send representatives to the meeting in November.

He said McGeorge Bundy, special assistant to the President on national security affairs, had sent the group an encouraging letter.

But a State Department spokesman said that while the State Department is not forbidding private discussions with the Red Chinese, it is not encouraging talk whose results would clash with U.S. foreign policy.

BOX SCORE: After six months in session, the House appears to have done more business than the Senate in almost every department but talking.

From Jan. 9 until June 30 the Senate met 85 times, and spent 452 hours in session.

The House spent 278 hours and 28 minutes in session, meeting 80 days.

It took 7,084 congressional record pages to chronicle Senate proceedings during the six month period. The House contribution: 4,274 pages.

All told, 55 public laws have been enacted. Forty-four of them originated in the House, 11 in the Senate.

The House has passed 402 bills and resolutions, the Senate 341.

Rainstorms Fatal To 34 In Japan

Hint For U.S. Vatican Envoy To Be Ignored

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appears likely to quietly ignore a hint that he send a representative to the Vatican.

An indication in a Vatican newspaper editorial that the Roman Catholic Church would like to have a U.S. representative at its headquarters has brought mixed reaction from senators.

There has been no American among the international representatives at the Vatican for 13 years. In 1950 President Harry S. Truman proposed sending Gen. Mark W. Clark, an Episcopalian. There was such an outcry that he dropped the idea.

Most members of Congress seem to feel that Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, will stick by his 1960 campaign declaration that he was "flatly opposed to appointment of an ambassador to the Vatican."

Although President Franklin D. Roosevelt set a precedent in appointing Myron Taylor as his representative to the Vatican, few think Kennedy will follow it. Roosevelt named Taylor as his spokesman, but gave him no diplomatic appointment that would have required Senate confirmation.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., commented crisply: "If we can't have prayer in the schools I don't see any sense in sending a representative to deal with the Pope."

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., a Roman Catholic, saw "no special reason why the President should send a representative to the Vatican."

Sen. Claire Engle, D-Calif., said Kennedy ought to give a great deal of thought to it before making any such move.

Trygve Lie Gets Post In Norway's Labor Government

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Norway's minority Labor government named former U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie minister of industries today in an attempt to blunt an opposition move to overthrow the government.

The Laborites, in power since 1955, have been rocked by a scathing report on the lack of safety precautions at a state-owned coal mine where 21 miners were killed last November. The report caused the resignation of the former industries minister.

Vague Khrushchev Bid For Nuclear Test Ban Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was faced upon his return from Europe today with a decision on whether to treat Soviet Premier Khrushchev's new proposals as propaganda or as a real opening toward an East-West accord.

The Soviet leader, in a major address in East Berlin, called in vague terms for a ban on atmospheric nuclear tests and a nonaggression pact between the rival NATO and Warsaw military alliances.

A radio-monitored text of Khrushchev's speech began arriving at the State Department Tuesday as Kennedy headed home. Washington authorities promptly started a careful analysis, but found many questions unanswered.

Questions Raised

A State Department press officer, Robert J. McClosky, declined immediate comment.

Initial private reactions among other officials ranged widely from speculation that a break in the cold war logjam may be in sight to an assessment that Khrushchev intends only to reap a propaganda harvest at the West's expense.

All agreed that important details needed to be clarified.

Kennedy must decide soon how to deal with the Khrushchev proposal, for he is sending Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman to Moscow for renewed test ban negotiations starting July 15.

The East Berlin speech rates as the main recent indicator of the Soviet position on this issue. But officials here raised these major questions about the Khrushchev offer:

1. Is Khrushchev proposing an uninspected moratorium on underground atomic explosions in addition to a ban on other nuclear tests?

2. Did Khrushchev put his test ban and nonaggression pact offers in one inseparable package?

The Soviet leader said that for the sake of easing international tensions "it is also necessary to take another major step" in addition to a test ban agreement: the signing of "a nonaggression pact between the two main military blocs—the NATO countries and the Warsaw Pact states."

Washington analysts said this language did not make it clear whether Khrushchev was saying the two issues must be settled together.

3. What conditions did Khrushchev have in mind for the nonaggression pact, particularly in relation to Communist East Germany?

There is some hope in official quarters that the Kremlin has come to such a point in its military situation and in its dispute with Red China that it wants to start reaching some form of accommodation with the West.

Particularly objectionable to the West in the past have been Moscow conditions for a nonaggression pact which would enhance the status of East Germany.

There is some hope in official quarters that the Kremlin has come to such a point in its military situation and in its dispute with Red China that it wants to start reaching some form of accommodation with the West.

These and other members of Soviet military intelligence, the FBI said, conspired with the two couples "to communicate, deliver and transmit to Russia information relating to United States military and Navy installations, troop movements, shipping and military waterfront facilities."

According to a complaint filed in a New York federal court, the four arrested Tuesday conspired with at least two Soviet military intelligence men to transmit to the Russians information on U.S. military installations and troop movements.

These included top-priority missile bases, it was learned. The four were ordered held without bail after preliminary hearings before U.S. commissioners. Hearings were postponed to July 16 to give the couples time to secure lawyers.

Seized in a raid on a Flushing, Long Island, apartment were Ivan Dmitrievich Egorov, 41, and his wife, Aleksandra Egorova, 39. Egorov is a personnel officer in the U.S. secretariat.

The FBI said the couple resisted arrest and the woman "put up a terrific struggle" and had to be carried away by agents.

The pair seized in a Washington apartment denied their guilt at a hearing.

While the FBI called them "John and Jane Doe" in its complaint, it said they were living under the names of Robert Keistulis Balch and Joy Ann Garber, or Joy Ann Balch. The names were taken, the FBI said, from innocent citizens—a Roman Catholic priest and a Connecticut housewife.

The FBI would not discuss the background of the Balch couple even to say whether they, too, might be Russian.

Also named but not charged in the complaint are Russian U.N. employees Aleksei Galkin, 45, and Petr Egorovich Maslennikov, 43, both of whom left for Russia in May.

These and other members of Soviet military intelligence, the FBI said, conspired with the two couples "to communicate, deliver and transmit to Russia information relating to United States military and Navy installations, troop movements, shipping and military waterfront facilities."

Advances indications are that the auditorium will be jammed with advocates and opponents.

Beforehand, the senators, including Michigan's Democratic Sen. Philip A. Hart, author of the Sleeping Bear dunes bill, will take a bus tour of the dunes areas of Leelanau and Benzie Counties.

Ove Jensen, chairman of a Citizens Council fighting the Hart bill, said he had been informed from Washington that proponents and opponents would be given an hour each at the hearing.

Colleagues of Hart who will come here — all members of a Senate subcommittee — are Sens. Alan Bible, D-Nevada, chairman; Frank E. Moss, D-Utah; Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska; Len B. Jordan, R-Idaho, and Milward I. Simpson, R-Wyo.

Feature Events Of Holiday At Ludington Park

Escanaba is all set for the biggest Fourth of July celebration in its history Thursday as a highlight of its Centennial Celebration.

Centennial Director Harold Cloutier announces that Ludington Park, which will be the scene of most of the activities, will have one-way traffic all day, with only one entrance and only two exits.

All other streets to the park will be barricaded to facilitate the handling of traffic in an orderly way and Cloutier said that families are urged to visit the park, get a parking spot for their car and stay for the day.

The single entrance to the park Thursday will be at the end of Ludington St. All traffic in the park will flow south to exits on 4th St. which crosses the park to the municipal bathing beach, and at 7th Ave and Lake Shore drive, just south of Karas Memorial Shell.

Lake Shore Drive will be used for parking of cars and the park's parking lots at the bandshell, tennis courts, bathing beach and elsewhere will be used for parking. "We have accommodations for thousands of cars and a charge of 50 cents a car will be made for all day parking," said Cloutier. "There will be 25 park police furnished by the Centennial Corp. on duty, six city police and two sheriff officers."

Cool This Morning

Metecologist S. E. Decker of the Escanaba Weather Bureau said that the Fourth of July will be partly cloudy, warmer and pleasant. The high for the day will be 70-75 here and about 80 degrees inland. The temperature, which skidded to 46 degrees at 3 a. m. today, was up to 68 in midmorning and heading for 75 degrees this afternoon. It'll be cool again tonight, warmer again Thursday.

Highlights of tonight's Centennial program include a concert by the Escanaba Municipal Band at 7 p. m. at the Athletic Field and presentation there of the pageant, "Festa Escanaba" depicting the city's history at 8:30. Cloutier announced that if there is a turn-away crowd at the pageant tonight it will be repeated at 8:30 p. m. on Thursday. A feature of the Athletic Field Program tonight will be crowning by Mayor Harold Vanlerbergh of Centennial Queen Mother Carrie Dahlberg and Centennial Patriarch Jules J. DeGrand between the concert and pageant.

Warships Coming

Tonight's offerings also include the LeCaptain School dancers at Karas Shell at 8:15, and the Promenaders' Square Dance Jam-boree at the Escanaba Area High School at 9:15.

Thursday's Fourth of July program starts with arrival of the Naval Reserve escort vessels Portage and Ely on training cruises at municipal dock at 8 a. m. The warships will be open to public inspection throughout the day and on the 5th, 6th and 7th of July, with the Coast Guard cutter Mackinaw joining them on the 5th.

The Silver Spurs Saddle Club and 4-H Riding Club will present a rodeo in Ludington Park at 11. The Exchange Club will serve barbecued chicken from 11 to 3 in the park. On the Little League Diamond there'll be a Little League playday.

The Escanaba Recreation Department plans an all day children's program and a baby contest in Ludington Park.

The International Log Birling Tourney will start in the marina at 1 p. m. and at the same time

Flight Suspension Protest Urged By Escanaba Manager

Escanaba City Council will be asked by City Manager George Harvey at its meeting on Monday to object to the proposal of North Central Airlines to abandon its "aerial bridge" flight over Lake Michigan between Escanaba and Traverse City and to intervene in a hearing on the proposal before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The northern terminal of the service is Marquette and from Traverse City south it serves Saginaw, Port Huron and Detroit.

North Central has proposed to add a flight a day each way between Port Huron and Detroit, but the cancellation of the service would leave the Upper Peninsula cities served by the flight with only their other existing North Central flights a day and two southbound.

Communities which would be affected by the cancellation of the flight have until July 14 to protest.

Served Two Years
The service was approved by CAB for a five year trial, now at the half way mark. North Central, in asking a CAB review of the experiment, suggests that it is not carrying the passenger loads projected for it, and says it will continue to give service between Upper Peninsula and Lower Peninsula cities affected via Green Bay, Wis., on existing schedules.

The aerial bridge flight was proposed as a means of uniting the peninsulas of Michigan more effectively. It has not achieved the concepts of original planning because it has not connected U.P. cities with Lansing, the state capital, and goes to Detroit only circuitously. The original Green Bay routing was maintained as the preferable route for the U.P. and not subjected to a competitive route between the peninsulas.

North Central's move is interpreted as getting itself on better terms with CAB on flight subsidies by losing a marginal situation. The airline is ambitious to extend its operations in the populous Lower Peninsula, where it has asked CAB to replace United Airlines service to Tri-County (Bay City, Saginaw, Midland), Flint, Lansing and Muskegon with North Central Service.

The Michigan Department of Aeronautics regards one flight a day service to a community as relatively worthless. Two flights a day are a minimum for useful service and they must be oriented to community needs as to time.

The increasing speed of surface travel with the development of superhighways is changing air service and developing the area airport concept, as at Tri-County Airport downstate, but this presents some practical problems for service in the Upper Peninsula, where air service is vital because of lack of other services and because of distances from metropolitan centers.

The Fact Finder Survey conducted by the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, the Civil Air Patrol, the Michigan Airport Managers Association and other agencies will be reported this month and will offer the first definite picture of the origins of Michigan air travel.

Stephenson Baby Killed By Truck

The 17-month-old son of the Stephenson Elementary School principal was killed instantly Tuesday at 11:20 a. m., when a gasoline truck which had just made a delivery to his home accidentally ran over him.

The victim was David Whitaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Whitaker. There are three other children in the family.

According to State Police of the Stephenson Post, the child had been playing in the yard with his father when the gasoline truck, driven by Joe Szapa, 26, of Carney pulled into the driveway to make a delivery.

Officers said the driver completed his job and went into the Whitaker's garage where Mr. Whitaker paid for the fuel. He then jumped into the cab of the truck, looked behind to make sure the way was clear, and not seeing anything began to back-up.

Szapa told State Police he had only gone a short distance when it felt as though the truck had run over something. Feeling that something was wrong he jumped from the truck and went behind to investigate. There he found 17-month-old David had been run over. The tot apparently wandered behind the wheels of the truck while his father was in the garage. He was killed instantly.

The body was taken to the Diem Funeral Home in Stephenson.

Rotarians Enjoy Century Of Song

Songs that people sang for the past 100 years—songs of sentiment, of faith and courage—were enjoyed in a Century of Song program presented at the Rotary Club meeting Tuesday noon in the House of Ludington.

Conrad Beck directed the program which had been especially prepared as part of the observance of Centennial Week. Beck, Walter Bright and Rev. Gordon Thorpe and Rotarians as a group sang songs of the various periods, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Clarence Moore.

The business meeting in advance of the program saw the transfer of the office of president from A. W. Moberg to Robert Mosenfelder. The Rotary year begins July 1.

Beck had prepared an original script for the program that related the history of a century through songs ranging from the inspiring "Battle Hymn of the Republic" to spirituals, the tunes of the Gay 90's, contemporary songs and closing with "God Bless America."

Guests at the meeting included Dr. Rodger Chenoweth of Peterborough, Canada, son of the late Dr. Nancy Rodger Chenoweth, one of Escanaba's few women physicians. Dr. Chenoweth was a luncheon guest of Charles Folio.

Pageant Tonight:

Spectacle, Drama Combined To Tell Escanaba's Story

Pageantry, music, spectacle and dramatic narration are combined to tell the story of Escanaba's first 100 years in the pageant "Festa Escanaba" to be presented at 8:30 tonight at the Escanaba Athletic Field.

The pageant in its development, which will be climaxed by the presentation of a living flag, will tell the story of the development of the community through the years. It is directed by the Rev. J. Bruce Brown with Carl Nelson script writer and associate director.

The Escanaba City Band, directed by Cecil Collins, will play a concert at the Athletic Field beginning at 7 p. m., followed by the crowning of the Centennial Queen Mother, Mrs. Carrie Dahlberg, 93, of 1401 Sheridan Road, and the Centennial Patriarch, Jules DeGrand, 81, of 606 1st Ave. S., at 8:15 p. m.

Liberty And Growth
"Festa Escanaba" will portray in pageantry, with colorful lighting and dramatic episode, the history of Escanaba from the time of its settlement to the present. The coming of the French explorers, the Indians in their village life, the role of religion in the development of culture and civilization are a part of the story.

Other episodes present the rough work and lives of the lumberjacks, the role of political and economic leaders in the growth of the community, how the railroad brought the founding of the city are also a part of the pageant story. The social life of the community, schools and education, and the elements of liberty, freedom and opportunity that brought a people together in the building of a city and an American way of life is also depicted.

Many persons and organizations have contributed time and talent in the preparation of "Festa Escanaba."

Fire Menaces Zoo

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 200-acre brush fire licked within 25 yards of Griffith Park Zoo's "cat row" before it was controlled.

Firemen beat back the blaze Tuesday before it could reach the cages which house lions, tigers and cougars.

Beards and bustles burgeoned bushily and beautifully back of the bandshell in Budington Park Wednesday night as Escanaba's Centennial called all the Brothers of the Brush and its Centennial belles to the preliminary judging in the beard and bustle contest. The finals will be held at 3 p. m. Saturday at Karas Memorial Shell with a beard shaving contest to follow. The 10 Centennial queens and two aides, Sandy Makinen and Rita Arts, will have the 12 contestants in a hirsute harvest at 4 p. m. (Daily Press Photo)

Ask Cooperation For Big Parade

One of the biggest parades in Escanaba's 100 years of history will be staged starting at 10 a. m. Saturday, July 6, and cooperation of the public is necessary to avoid accidents and assure a smooth program, said Police Chief Harold Finman.

The street area from the "Y" north on Sheridan, Stephenson and Washington Avenues to 12th Ave. N. will be used for forming the parade, said the chief.

People residing in the area are asked to cooperate by using avenues in the area to travel to U.S. 2-41 and thus downtown to watch the parade.

Parents are asked to keep their children off Ludington St. during the period of the parade; and that they prevent their children from riding bicycles during the parade to avoid possibility of traffic injuries.

Members of the United Commercial Travelers will be stationed along Ludington St. to keep the crowds off the street.

Parking of cars will be permitted at the various intersections along Ludington except 3rd Ave. N. and Stephenson; 14th and Ludington and 10th and Ludington, which must be kept open for traffic and emergency service. Motorists must remain near their parked cars in the event they are called upon to move them in an emergency.

Officers will start clearing the parade route shortly after 8 a. m. and motorists are asked to not park on Ludington St.

Phoenix Robber Linked To Three Michigan Holdups

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — FBI agents are checking out crimes in Michigan in which they say the admitted robber of a Phoenix bank may be implicated.

Harvey Couey, 39, of South Denver, Colo., captured Friday shortly after the $10,900 robbery of a bank in Phoenix, is held in the inquiry.

Police Sgt. Wesley Maudlin said Couey admitted the Phoenix robbery, plus holdups in Michigan and California.

The other robberies included a bank in Grand Rapids, Mich., $7,000 last December; a $900 hold-up in Grand Rapids and a $300 Western Union robbery in Saginaw, Mich., both in December.

Whiskers Outdo Pirate Blackbeard

The Brothers of the Brush marched last night in Ludington Park for the preliminaries of the Escanaba Centennial's beard and bustle contests and Escanaba hasn't seen as much chin whiskers in a century.

The judges selected the finalists for the beard contest to be held at Karas Memorial Shell in the park at 3 p. m., with a spectacular shaving contest to follow at 4 p. m. and remove the beards in time so the Brothers of the Brush can attend the Centennial Ball Saturday night in Escanaba Area High School with untanned chins.

Democratic Rule Called Bankrupt

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

BANKRUPT: Republican leaders of Congress, in a preview of their 1964 campaign pitch, term President Kennedy's leadership "apologetic and bankrupt."

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House GOP leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana made the statement and offered a GOP cure.

"Given a Republican in the White House and Republican majorities in the Senate and House, this country would get the leadership it needs."

CENSORSHIP: A "voluntary censorship" code to guide newspapers and broadcasters in handling military information in case of war is nearing completion in the Office of Emergency Planning.

MISSILES: More than 300 intercontinental ballistic missiles now stand ready on the U.S. line of defense.

The combat-ready figure reached 309 when the first 20 of the Air Force's second wing of Minuteman missiles were turned over Monday to the Strategic Air Command at Ellsworth Air Force Base in South Dakota.

WASHER: A worn out washer that cost less than two cents may have caused the failure of the $10 million Ranger 5 lunar spacecraft last fall, space agency officials report.

A spokesman at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at Pasadena, Calif., said tests showed that deterioration of a washer could have caused a short circuit and overheating.

Centennial Draws Many Back Home

Charles Bogren of Colorado Springs, Colo., is among the many former Escanabans returned for the Centennial Week celebration. He is a guest of the John Nystroms, 1121 Lake Shore Drive.

"I decided to grow a beard and come home to Escanaba for the Centennial after John Nystrom sent me a copy of The Century Book," said Bogren, who was employed in the operation of the Chicago & North Western lighting plant many years ago.

Many other persons have returned to Escanaba for the celebration. Among them are:

Mr. and Mrs. K. Loudon of Lansing. She is the former Valverde Anderson of Escanaba and they are visiting with her uncle and aunt, the E. E. Nybergers of 416 S. 12th St., and with other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Provencher of 501 S. 11th St., will have their son and daughter-in-law and family as guests. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Provencher and children Robert, Donna and Angela will arrive here Thursday from Wausau, Wis., and on Friday Mr. Provencher will also attend his class reunion.

Here from Pensacola, Fla., are Mr. and Mrs. William Chamberlain, who are guests of Mrs. Gidcon Stegath and Mrs. Joseph Rousch.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle LeCaptain of Fitchburg, Mass., are guests of the Lyle LeCaptains Jr. of Escanaba.

Lillian Reynolds and Gordon Baird of Wilmington, Del., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Swabe, are Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Kirk of Baltimore.

Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Meier of Sheboygan, Wis., are visiting relatives here this Centennial Week; and the Adolph Eastman's of Minneapolis are guests of Mrs. Hanna Eastman, his mother, at 1125 Washington Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Carlson and daughter of San Francisco are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thurston; Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Prickett, Blue Earth, Minn., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schatz; and Mr. and Mrs. Edward St. Thomas and children, Kay and Steven, Twinsburg, Ohio, are guests of Martha St. Thomas.

C. E. Palmer, Whitehall, Miss., is visiting Miss Esther Palmer in Escanaba. His father, the late Erick J. Palmer, was an early-day employee of the Escanaba gas utility.

All finalists are asked to report at Karas Shell at 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

School Document Centers Display

Minutes taken at the first school board meeting in 1866 are among the many interesting documents on display in the recreated 100 year old school room exhibit at the Escanaba Senior High School on S. 23rd St.

It is the first time the beautifully written record book has been available for public inspection.

Through the courtesy of the Delta County Historical Society, the PTA has been able to include books used in the early area schools and a graduation diploma complete with the program that was presented commencement night at Peterson's Opera House.

Many individuals have contributed items of bygone days. There is a slate and slate pencil; and the spectacles used by the school marm have the bi-focals glued on the regular lens.

The old school room scene may be viewed between the hours of 1 and 4 in the room next to the principal's office at the new Senior High.

Independence Unfinished

Four score and seven years ago—plus a full century—the Declaration of Independence was signed. That was a long time ago, at least as we measure time by our individual lives. Perhaps that is why it is so easy to think of Independence Day as merely commemorating an event that happened once and was over with, that is just another fact of history, just another date.

We tend to forget that July 4, 1776, was more than one self-contained day in history. It was the watershed from which has streamed a great, ever-broadening river of freedom into our own time.

We are wrong if we think of July 4th as marking the day when freedom was brought forth by decree and handed to posterity. Independence, even after the end of the Revolutionary War, was not a completed event. It was a continuing process, an evolution, a growth.

Freedom in America is still an unfinished business.

This involves more than the fact that in the past 187 years millions of Americans have given their lives in defending their nation against external enemies. This is, perhaps, the easiest form of patriotism. In war, the enemy is obvious, and the course of duty clear.

More difficult is it sometimes to recognize other enemies of freedom—not necessarily persons, but ideas, entrenched interests, prejudices hallowed by tradition.

At one time, freedom in America was for the "respectable" people, those who owned enough property to qualify for the right to vote. Throughout our history, too often freedom has been abridged or denied to certain classes and minority groups because of ethnic background, religion, economic status, political beliefs.

Yet eventually these groups attained full acceptance into citizenship—not by riot or revolution but by steady evolution within the framework of the Constitution.

That is the pride and the glory of the United States—and the hope of those who are not yet as free as others.

July 4, 1963, is another marker buoy on the river of freedom. Beyond, in the future, where the current is pulling, can be seen a great vista that embraces the world.

Escanaba Homecoming

The Escanaba Centennial has taught the community a number of things already.

One of the most impressive, perhaps, is that people love a homecoming. This is the chief character of the Centennial. It has brought back to the community hundreds of persons who used to live here and who keep their love for Escanaba and welcome an opportunity to celebrate her birthday.

This fraternizing and reminiscing and renewal of friendships is an unprogrammed part of the Centennial Celebration, but one of its great successes, enriching human relationships and tapping the wonderful kegs of memory and reminiscence and shared friendships.

There is Oh-ing, and Ah-ing over Ludington Park and the new Escanaba Area High School and the new Delta County Building and other developments in the city, but the homecoming accent is chiefly upon humans, the great ones and the dear ones, the "characters" and the quiet souls who gave such stability to life.

The widely shared pleasures of the homecoming suggest that Escanaba should make an annual occasion, probably Fourth of July week, for homecoming. The program need not be as elaborate as that of the Centennial being observed this week. It can be modestly programmed, providing chiefly an opportunity for old friends to meet in familiar surroundings, with the evidence of the community welcome all about.

The success of the Protestant and Catholic field services is also a lesson in the effectiveness of such religious exercises and a suggestion that there should be annual services of this type.

The Centennial is a reminder, too, of the excellence of the community's leadership, especially its young organizers. They have done very well with arrangements, organizing the community's resources skillfully for the celebration. They couldn't bend the weather to their will to get the Navy Chuting Stars parachute show off on schedule, but they eventually got favoring weather and offered an excellent show to mark up another Upper Peninsula first.

The Centennial has a fine carnival flavor which will climax with the fireworks on the Fourth and the parade on Saturday, but it has a very impressive underpinning of solid achievement, too, topped by the Centennial History and the dedication of the new Escanaba Area High School and new Bay de Noc Community College.

These would be highlights for any century and they come opportunely and happily at the end of Escanaba's first. This third high school is a facility designed to cope with the enormously expanding problems of learning. The new college greets the new century with a pledge of devotion to the cause of enlightenment.

A visitor from Menominee said this week: "You're certainly decked out with buttons and bows!" And pride, too!

Washington Comment

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, speaking before 300 college students ready to take a trip to Europe under the People-to-People Program, told this story which he says is an example of individual initiative.

One day last winter when he and his daughter Kerry were playing in the yard behind their home, he slipped and fell in the snow, cutting his face and head. He applied snow to stop the bleeding, till daughter Kerry ran up and said to him:

"Daddy, don't do that."
"Why," asked Bobby.
"Come Kerry's reply:
"Cause you'll use up all the snow."

Mrs. Lee Sherry, chairman of the California Republican Women's Northern Division, has come up with her version of the best nursery story of the year, which she calls "The Elephants Couldn't Bear It." The story is about three little bears, Johnny, Bobby and Teddy, who take all the honey from the people and eventually are driven from their den (The White House) by outraged red-white-and-blue elephants.

A Washington newsman who does not wish President Kennedy and his brothers any ill luck nevertheless is waiting for that day when all three of them have a rather poor go of it.

Whether or not he gets to write the story, he wants to recommend this headline to his editor: "The Grim World of the Brothers Wonderful."

When McGee Bundy, one of President Kennedy's top aides, spoke to the Women's National Democratic Club, he found himself under good-natured verbal fire from the wife of an administrative colleague.

He was introduced by attractive Elspeth Rostow, wife of Walt Rostow, chairman of the State Department's Policy Planning Council. Noting that a biographical sketch of Bundy refers to him as a "general factotum," Mrs. Rostow said:

"I looked that up. A factotum is defined as a busybody, and a servant who manages all of his master's affairs."

The same sketch, she added, states that Bundy is "politically a Republican." She suggested that left unanswered this question:

"In his innermost a-political soul, what is he?"

Rising to speak, Bundy said of Mrs. Rostow:

"There's a girl we've got to keep out of our files!"

He added that his Republicanism is "something Republicans never remember and Democrats always forgive."

Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N. H., has come up with this verse from "Space Child's Mother Goose Rhymes," which he says describes the present Kennedy administration to a tee:

"This is chaotic confusion and bluff
That hangs on the turn of a plausible phrase
That thickens the erudite verbal haze
That lies in the theory
Jack built."

GOP National Chairman William E. Miller, in commenting on the civil rights crisis, says:

"I think this proves that it is a lot easier to campaign for the presidency than to be president."

Washington, like other cities, is playing "Swifties," which consists of making quotations in the stilted style of the old Tom Swift boys' books.

Example: "I don't care to drink," he said dryly.

The other evening somebody got off this one:

"Remarriage won't affect my political plans at all," said Rockefeller happily.

Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., commenting on the seizure and fining of two U. S. tuna boats by Ecuador, noted that the President's newly appointed "fish ambassador," former democratic Sen. Ben Smith of Massachusetts, has been spending much of his time making the rounds of Washington social functions. Came Wilson's suggestion:

The former senator "should spend less time in his 'soup and fish' and more time getting U. S. fishermen out of the soup."

Memory Lane

By J. R. LOWELL

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba High School, Class of 1923, is holding its thirtieth reunion this evening at the Dells Supper Club. J. Alton Mallmann will be master of ceremonies, Alfred Lawrence will call the roll and George King of Wells will lead the group singing. Charles Folio has served as general chairman of arrangements.

Erling Arntzen was the successful bidder for the construction of a new school at Wells. His bid was for $84,746.00 plus an alternate boiler room at a cost of $484.00.

Mrs. Margaret May, 1323 Ludington, announces that she will leave early in September for Abqaiq, Saudi Arabia, where she plans to spend the next two years. Her husband Alfred "Curley" May, is employed there by the Arabian-American Oil Co.

Twenty Years Ago

Norway's plight in the current World War was graphically discussed in a lecture here last evening by Elise Margrethe Roed, of Oslo, Norway, editor of Norway's leading woman's magazine. Miss Roed made her escape from Norway on foot and after a harrowing experience, found asylum in Sweden. Norway is overrun by the Nazis at present.

Levels at Indian Lake are unusually high at present and the Schoolcraft county board of supervisors is in a quandary over what to do about it. There is a diversion dam at the lake outlet but fears were expressed that should level be lowered at the dam it would cause considerable damage. No action was taken by the board.

The Doctor Says:

Eclipse Could Damage Eyes

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Every time there is an eclipse, many persons who watch it live to regret it. After the eclipse on September 20, 1960, despite advance warnings, 31 persons in Utah and 75 in Washington received retinal burns. Many others undoubtedly occurred but were not reported. Most of the victims were under 20 years of age.

Another eclipse is due on July 20, 1963. The moon will pass between the earth and the sun along a path through Alaska, Canada, and Maine. Over this path, it will cause total darkness for a few minutes. In areas north and south of this pathway a partial eclipse may be seen.

There is no safe way to look directly into the eclipse. Smoked glass and old photographic negatives cut out some of the rays, but enough infra-red heat rays get through to cause serious burns.

Since there are no pain fibers in the optic nerve, which ends at the retina, the burns cannot be felt. They leave retinal scars which remain throughout life as incurable blind spots.

The effect of the sun's rays passing through the lens of the eye and focusing on the retina can be demonstrated by focusing the same rays through a pocket lens on the back of your hand, which is well supplied with pain fibers.

No one is to be blamed for wanting to see an eclipse. But it is hardly worth a retinal burn. For this reason, one of the following alternatives should be used:

● Watch it on television. Since the eclipse may be shown several times on newscasts, you may be able to see it more than once.

● Another method is to punch a round hole 1/8- to 1/4-inch in diameter in a sheet of cardboard. With your back to the sun, hold the cardboard in such a position that the sun's rays pass through the hole and are projected onto a smooth, white surface.

This is the principle of the camera, and the image projected will be upside down. In the case of a solar eclipse, this doesn't matter.

Spread Eagle Loses Battle

IRON MOUNTAIN—One signature is the difference between Spread Eagle being a separate town or a part of the Town of Florence.

The Wisconsin State Supreme court, on an appeal from the Town of Florence has ruled that the original Spread Eagle petition was defective and ordered the case back to circuit court for dismissal of proceedings.

This is another chapter in a three-year court battle and Spread Eagle has not given up. Spread Eagle has 20 days in which to file for a rehearing on the Supreme Court decision. The machinery is already in motion.

The Supreme Court decision reversing the County Circuit Court order creating a new Town on Spread Eagle last December is based on the following facts disclosed by the court:

The law requires that a list of 150 freeholders are necessary to form a new town. Spread Eagle had 161.

The law requires that for the formation of a new town, 50 per cent of the freeholders are required by signatures. Spread Eagle, on its petition, had 87 signatures, more than the required percentage.

However, the Supreme Court ruled that seven of the 87 signatures were defective, not living in the boundary of the proposed new town.

That left Spread Eagle with 80 legitimate signatures, which is not 50 per cent of 161—missing the qualification by the margin of one signature.

In the meantime, the Spread Eagle officials are planning to continue the long court battle with a rehearing.

Since the court action started three years ago, there is a new law passed by the state legislature. Any new action will require 300, instead of 150, freeholders in the proposed new area. Spread Eagle today could never meet that new figure of 300.

Bridge Traffic At Straits Heavy

ST. IGNACE—A heavy rush of traffic is expected at the Mackinac Bridge during the Independence Day holiday and weekend. With the July 4th holiday falling on Thursday bridge officials predict the traffic will continue through the following weekend.

Last year the bridge traffic for July 1 and 2 was below that of the prior year with 7,419 crossings on July 1 and 6,884 on July 2. The June traffic in 1962 showed a 16.1 per cent gain over 1961.

In line with the anticipated increase in traffic for the holiday period, Michigan State Police ask motorists who are planning long auto trips to guard against driving fatigue with frequent rest stops. They point out that rest stops keep drivers more alert, more ready to react quickly if hazards arise.

Special Diets In Publication Of Medical Center

ANN ARBOR—More than 60 special diets for patients with everything from allergy to ulcer are listed in the 145-page "Diet Manual" just published by the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Prepared in technical language for the professional staff of University Hospital, the booklet summarizes present knowledge in nutrition and diet therapy for diseases of adults and children.

The manual lists a wide variety of meats, fruits, vegetables, desserts, and cereals which can be combined to give hospital meals a "new look" and a sprightly new taste while still following the doctor's orders.

Avocados, guavas, papaya and Chinese cabbage are listed right along with the more conventional beets, carrots, peas and onions.

Among the specific disorders for which diets are specially tailored are hyperinsulinism, galactosemia and phenylketonuria. Other diets are designed for diabetes, for patients who need to restrict their protein, phosphorus or calcium intake, and for pregnancy. There is even a "synthetic diet" consisting of a casein preparation with sugar and water for brief use by certain allergy patients.

Distribution of the U-M Diet Manual is being handled by the Wahr bookstore in Ann Arbor.

Miss Michigan Finals Friday

MUSKEGON (AP)—Curvy, tall, talented and—wowiee. That's the composite picture of the new Miss Michigan to be named here Friday night in the annual pageant which offers winners nearly $7,000 in cash and gifts plus a chance to become Miss America.

Preliminary talent and bathing suit competitions are scheduled Wednesday and Thursday for the 42 entries, a record field in the 13th annual state pageant to be staged in Muskegon.

Guests of honor for the proceedings are presiding Miss America, Jacqueline Mayer of Sandusky, Ohio, and the outgoing Miss Michigan, Carol Jean VanValin of Roscommon.

Impersonal statistics show the typical contestant this year stands 5-6, weighs 120.4 pounds, measures 35.5-23-35.5 in silhouette, is little more than 18 years old, has brown hair and blue eyes.

She nearly matches the average for Miss America winners over the past 18 years.

The 1963 state contest includes an all-time record 13 vocalists, 14 dancers, six instrumentalists, five aspiring actresses and the remainder entering talent competition with novelty acts.

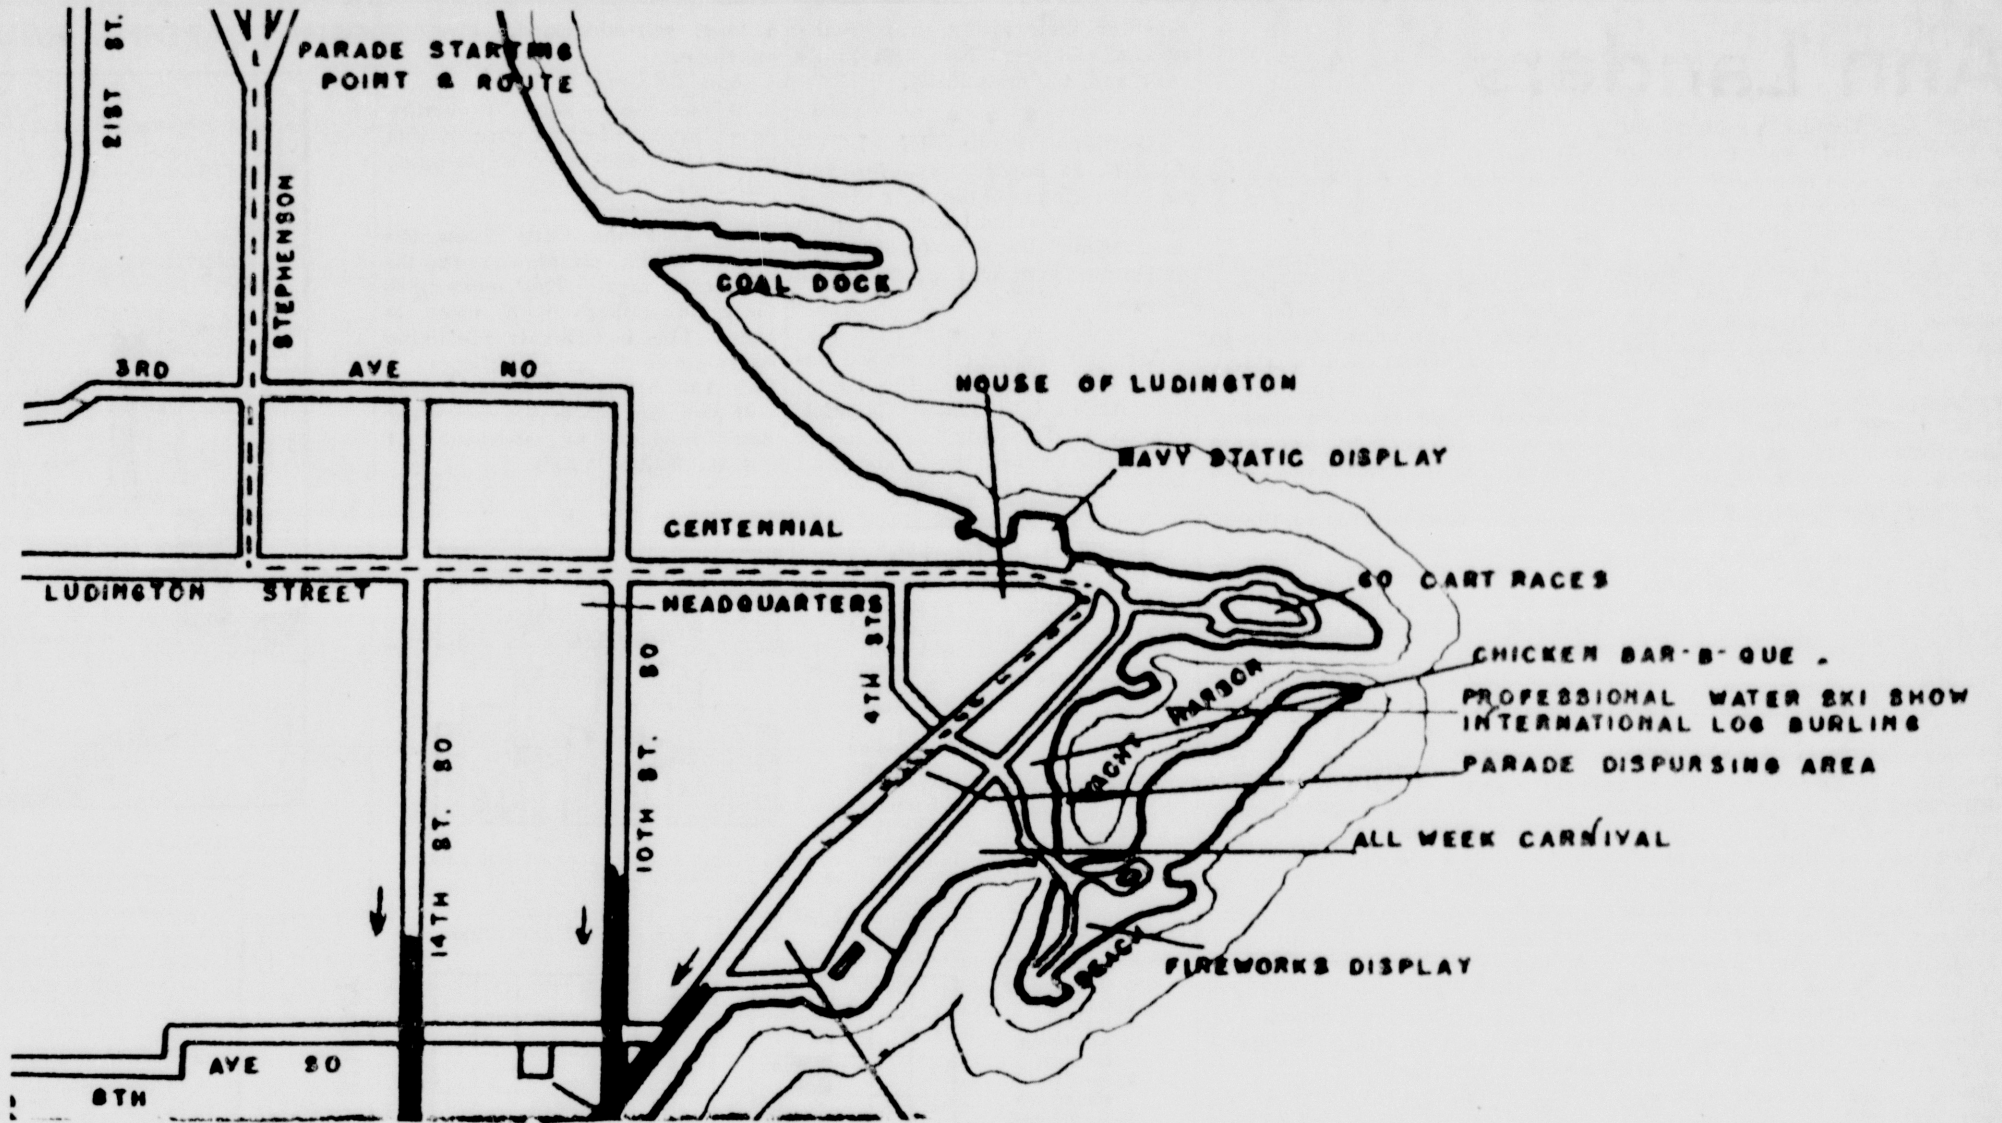

It also includes a record number of 13 blondes and 5 girls with auburn hair.

No fewer than 18 candidates have completed at least one year of college, one is a college graduate and all but a handful are enrolled in college for next fall. Ten candidates are members of national honorary scholastic societies.

Tallest in the contest is Nancy Albosta, 18-year-old Roscommon County candidate who stands 5-11. The most petite is Nancy Wood, Miss Montcalm County, who stands 5-2.

The list of the 42 candidates this year (hometown in parenthesis, where required) including age, color of hair and eyes and talent includes:

Red City—Geri Schmidt, 20, brown hair, blue-gray eyes, dancer.

This map prepared by the City of Escanaba's engineering office shows routes and site highlights for Centennial festivities. Ludington St. will be only entry to Ludington Park, far right, and exits will be on 4th St. and 7th Ave. S. All other streets serving the park will be barricaded on the Fourth of July and traffic in the park will move south only. Saturday's parade will move east on Ludington (right) to a dispersal area in Ludington Park.

Widow, 80, Lives After 'Death'

WILLARD, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Mary L. Voight, a frail 80-year-old widow, was pronounced dead twice by the same doctor in less than 4 hours.

The 87-pound woman died Monday night. She had clung to life more than 9 hours after she was believed to have died the first time.

Walter Lindsey Sr., was about to embalm her in his mortuary Sunday night when he saw her breathing and sweating.

After detecting a faint heartbeat, Lindsey and an aide wrapped Mrs. Voight in blankets and rushed her back to Willard Municipal Hospital. She remained in an oxygen tent until death came shortly after 7 Monday night.

Dr. Richard Jackson, 38, pronounced her dead—just as he had done late Sunday night after a stroke had hospitalized the woman. At that time, the general practitioner said, "she lost all the vital signs of life—blood pressure and pulse were gone and she was not breathing."

Mrs. Voight had a heart stoppage the first time, but a rough ride to the mortuary in an ambulance apparently restored the woman's breathing and circulation, the doctor said.

Legislature Can Change Status Of Local Justices

LANSING (AP) — The Attorney General's office has issued an opinion saying the Legislature can change the status of justices of the peace and circuit court commissioners.

The new State Constitution authorized the Legislature to abolish the two offices prior to Jan. 1, 1969, when they are otherwise abolished, the opinion said.

During this period, the ruling said, the Legislature may change the present fee basis by providing for payment of salary in lieu of fees.

Graves Visited On Honeymoon

By BOB VOGES

LANSING (AP)—His new bride discovered Rep. Don Vander Werp had carefully planned the trip ahead when they went on their honeymoon in 1930.

The couple visited the graves of more than half a dozen presidents of the United States as part of the honeymoon.

More tombs, crypts and graves were part of what might be termed a second honeymoon last fall. Now Vander Werp has visited the final resting place of every former president.

"Some might think this is an unusual and even macabre hobby," Vander Werp admitted. "It all stems from my intense interest in the history of our country and the lives of our presidents, particularly Lincoln."

Started in 1927

Vander Werp traditionally is addressed as Senator by fellow legislators, as he served 22 years in the Senate before he switched over to the house. He was editor and publisher of The Fremont Times-Indicator from 1911 to 1950.

Vander Werp started "collecting" graves of presidents in 1927.

"My interest in the lives of the presidents led to a curiosity to know how they were disposed of in death," he said.

He talked to custodians, sextons and church wardens and uncovered many unusual facts about the presidents and their burial spots.

One of his first difficulties was finding out just where some of the presidents were buried. There is no one easily-available listing, he said.

"Many people living almost within the shadow of presidential monuments are unaware they even exist," he said.

One of the most difficult to find, he recalled, was the grave of William Henry Harrison.

Some Neglected

"The location was listed as near North Bend, which in turn was near Cincinnati. When I went looking out no such place as North Bend existed. I found only a gas station at a corner. The attendant was puzzled but finally guessed 'it might be that big monument yonder.' That was it."

Making tours of discovery easier, Vander Werp found, was the fact that all the graves are located east of the Mississippi.

He was shocked to discover that some of the graves were neglected and overrun with weeds.

He found the grave of Zachary Taylor at Louisville, Ky., matted with weeds. Since then, Vander Werp said, he understands the plot has been made a national park and now is receiving proper care. The grave of Martin Van Buren, near Kinderhook, N.Y., also was covered with grass and weeds at the time of his visit, he said.

Admission was being charged by a private owner at the time he went to see the burial place of James Madison near Orange, Va. A patriotic organization now has taken over custodianship, Vander Werp said.

First Round Completed By Newberry League

NEWBERRY — The Newberry Babe Ruth League finished first round of play with the No-Nothings on top with a 3-1 record; Jetsons are 2-2; and Untouchables are 1-3.

Both fine pitching and good hitting by some of the boys has dominated early play. Roger Norkoli of the No-Nothings has been top pitcher with a 3-0 record. What makes his record impressive is that two of the three wins have been no-hitters. Both Simi of the Jetsons, and Johnson of the Untouchables have shown fine pitching in most games pitched. Norkoli leads in strikeouts with 27 in 26 innings pitched.

Tom McCutcheon of the No-Nothings leads the league in hitting with a .666 average; he also leads in extra bases with a double and two triples. Flank and Simi of the Jetsons, and Clark and Norkoli of the Untouchables are hitting for good average. The No-Nothings list four other players hitting over the 300 average: R. Norkoli, M. Williams, T. Campbell, and D. Aho.

Some of the boys playing for the first time on the larger field have adapted very well, with B. Cameron of the Untouchables starting catching for the first time showing fine improvement in a tough position.

As play continues, team play will improve, with hitting and pitching also expected to improve.

The new one will be of roughly the same size, but may be of different materials.

Silver Up Over Monetary Value

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The price of silver on the futures market in London has been pushed above the monetary value of U.S. government stocks. The cash price in New York has risen this week to a whisker of the official price.

But don't start melting down your silver coins. They're worth more as they are in the metals markets.

The U.S. Treasury has enough silver on hand to maintain its official valuation thanks to the recent direction by Congress to stop backing $1 and $2 bills with the metal.

The Treasury can use this released hoard for its increasing coinage needs without competing with other consumers in the London market.

Silver dealers say the Treasury stock hangs over the market to prevent any runaway prices for industrial or art uses here at

Airline Service Petitions Denied

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board Monday adopted as final an examiner's decision denying applications of Lake Central and North Central airlines for new local service routes in the Fort Wayne-Muncie, Ind., area.

The board said the March 7 findings of Examiner Ross I. Newmann would become effective immediately except with regard to termination of TWA's authority to serve Fort Wayne and South Bend. This will become effective Aug. 17, the board said.

Newmann denied the application of Anderson, Ind., for air service, through its own airport by Lake Central, and redesignated Muncie on Lake Central's route as Muncie-Anderson-New Castle, Delta Airlines' authority to serve Fort Wayne and Toledo, Ohio, was continued without restriction, as was United Airlines authority to serve Fort Wayne and South Bend.

The board declined petitions of Lake Central, North Central and Anderson, Muncie, Fort Wayne, Indianapolis, Dayton, Ohio and Grand Rapids, Mich., for discretionary review of Newmann's initial decision.

Farmers Protest; Tomatoes Bombard French Policemen

PERPIGNAN, France (AP)—Riot police saw red Sunday when they tried to stop a farmers' protest parade.

About 2,000 fruit and vegetable growers joined in the demonstration protesting low prices and poor sales.

When police barred the route to the district government offices, farmers pulled up two truckloads of tomatoes and started bombarding the officers. Police retaliated with tear gas.

The farmers also dumped several tons of tomatoes and apricots on the road leading toward Spain. Traffic soon produced a slippery mixture and it took police three hours to sort out the resulting traffic jam.

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Penny Nord, Gulliver, Ronald Miller, Rte. 1, Joseph Cota, Garden, Evelyn Heltman, Rte. 1, Tony Busch, 215 Elk, Charles Hynes, 323 N. 3rd. Discharged were Bruce Gilman, Dolores Davidson, Dorothy McNamara and baby and Maxine Mitchell and baby.

home — although consumers are resigned to having to pay more for their supplies.

The price rise on the world markets—and the steadily mounting demands that back that increase—comfort many mining operators in the United States. Silver thus becomes for them a profitable by-product of their main lines of copper, lead and zinc—and at a time when lead and zinc prices themselves are firming.

The spot price for silver on the price-setting London market rose on Tuesday to $1.292 an ounce. For August delivery the price went to $1.297 or higher, with as much as $1.305 an ounce bid for delivery in June 1964.

The monetary value of the U.S. government's silver stocks is $1-2929 an ounce. In New York the cash price was lifted by dealers 0.3 cent an ounce Monday to $1-288.

The spurt in price this week was credited to active buying in London due to increased demand by some European nations for both coinage and industrial uses.

Consumption of silver worldwide has been running well above mine output. Electronics and various space age devices have increased the use of the metal. Affluent societies both here and abroad have increased their buying of household and other silver objects. And the number of silver coins needed for vending machines, turnstiles and generally higher consumer purchases has put a strain on many nations' mints.

Oily Substance Fouls Up Beach

LANSING (AP)—An oily, tar-like material, believed to have come from a Great Lakes tanker, is fouling some nine miles of beach above Port Huron, reports the Water Resources Commission.

Large oil patches of various sizes were found along the Lake Huron shoreline starting some 16½ miles north of Port Huron. Several milk cartons, bearing non-Michigan labels, also washed up on the beaches along with the oil. Commission experts identified the oil as a type used by ships travelling the Great Lakes. There was no evidence the oil deposit came from a land-based operation, the commission said.

LANSING (AP)—Four appointments to the seven-member Apple Commission have been made by Gov. George Romney, as follows:

Ivan Stein of South Haven, to replace Marion Cargo of Bangor for a term expiring April 1, 1966; Paul Button of Farmington, to replace Jerome Schoef of Romeo for a term expiring April 1, 1966; Alfred Wardowski of Leslie, to replace Frank Green of Hillsdale for a term expiring April 1, 1964; James Friday of Coloma, reappointed for a term expiring April 1, 1966.

LANSING (AP)—There will be no more drinking allowed at Dodge Four State Park west of Pontiac, the Conservation Department announced.

The ban on possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages has covered the beach area for some time. It will be extended to the entire park effective July 8.

Pollution Kills Large Fish In Kalamazoo River

LANSING (AP)—The State Water Resources Commission reports a fish kill of several thousand suckers and carp in a one-mile stretch of the Kalamazoo River between Stringham Rd. and the Fort Custer water works.

The commission said the kill was due to oxygen depletion in the river and added that a toxic material might be involved as well.

Sewage and industrial wastes from Springfield have been dumped directly into the river, the commission said. Such wastes previously were treated at the Battle Creek sewage treatment plant.

The investigation is continuing to determine if there has been a violation of state anti-pollution laws.

In Memoriam

Crain

In loving memory of our loving mother, Mrs. M. Crain, who died 10 years ago today, July 3, 1953.

The sun and moon are shining On a lone and silent grave. Beneath lies one we dearly loved. But whom we could not save. Time may ease the sorrowing hearts. Time may make the wounds less sore. But time will never stop the longing For the loved one gone before.

Joe's Bar of Marquette, the team that will meet the Escanaba All Stars here Saturday night, won the Dewey Hansen tournament in Ishpeming over the weekend. Joe's team downed Ishpeming Casino 3-1 in the semifinals on Jack Stone's five batter. Bill Bertucci scattered six hits in a 4-2 triumph over Ishpeming Woody's in the finals. The Hansen trophy determines the Marquette County champion each year.

Marty Gharriy, a Northern Michigan University basketball player, fired a six under par 66 to defeat Bill Connors of Marquette, Upper Peninsula men's champion, in a match at the Marquette Country Club. Connors was four under with a 68. Before transferring to Northern from the University of Wisconsin, Gharriy was a member of the Badger golf team and played Jack Nicklaus in three matches, winning one and losing two. He also played against Arnold Palmer in an exhibition match.

The first big baseball rubarb in Upper Peninsula Legion baseball circles popped up in the Marquette County league in a game between Gwin and Marquette. Trailing 2-1 in the last of the ninth with one out and runners on second and third, Marquette tied it with a long sacrifice fly to the outfield. But the umpire ruled the base runner had left third too early and that started the fireworks. Roger Contois and Curt Vandenboom shared a no-hitter on the Marquette mound.

Young Jim Edberg of Felch suffered a Michigan-Wisconsin baseball league setback Sunday as his team bowed to Iron Mountain 4-0. John Constantini Jr. fired a one-hitter from the Iron Mountain hill and Edberg allowed seven hits. Norway retained its league lead with a 5-4 verdict over Armstrong Creek.

John Nachtsheim, all-time football standout at Duluth Branch of the University of Minnesota, has signed a contract to coach football at Hurley High School of the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference. He announced this week that he will try out with the Minnesota Vikings of the NFL this summer, but plans to fulfill his contract at Hurley.

Peshtigo edged Stephenson 8-6 to win the Wishigan Baseball League first half championship with a perfect 7-0 record. The defeat was Stephenson's first of the season. Terry Helling and Chic Hartert shared the winning mound while Bill Johnson and Ron Sandahl worked for the Strohlers.

Bow To Twins 7-4

Why Are Tigers Pushovers For Lefty Pitchers?

DETROIT (AP)—Among the multitude of problems Charlie Dressen inherited from Bob Scheffing when the Tigers changed managers is one that defies all baseball logic.

Why are the Tigers, dominated by right-handed batters, pushovers for left-handed pitching?

The accepted principle is that against southpaws and vice versa, right handed hitters do better.

But the Tigers were beaten Tuesday night for the 17th time by a left hander, losing 7-4 to Dick Stigman and the Minnesota Twins. Detroit has beaten left handers only twice—and the season is nearing the halfway point.

Against right handers the Tigers are 27-29, almost 500.

Can't Find Answer

The imbalance of these statistics is something that Scheffing was unable to explain. Now Dressen, despite his 45 years in baseball, is at a loss to discover the reason for the 2-17 failure against southpaws.

"I don't see why that should be," said the new manager. "We've got some pretty good right-handed hitters here—Al Kaline, Rocky Colavito and my two catchers, Bill Freehan and Gus Triandos. With them the record should be better against left-handed pitching."

The big reason for the Twins' victory—their eighth straight—was they hit their homers with men on base. The Tigers had men on base, too, but not when the homers were hit.

Bob Allison clouted a two-run homer in the third when the Twins broke a 1-1 tie with three runs. Jimmy Hall belted a three-run homer in the sixth.

Kaline got the Tigers ahead 1-0 with his 17th homer in the first Billy Bruton slapped a homer, again with nobody on base, in the ninth.

The Tigers' other two runs were driven in by Colavito. He walked with the bases loaded in the third

Billie Jean Has Two Net Scals

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Billie Jean Moffitt, with two prized scamps dangling from her belt, braced today for a third giant-killing effort that would take her into the Wimbledon final for the first time.

The 19-year-old tomboy from Long Beach, Calif., meets British Wightman Cup star Mrs. Ann Haydon Jones in the semifinals Thursday.

"And I guess this is the most important match of my life," Billie Jean said.

"Ann and I are all square. I beat her in the Wightman Cup in Chicago in 1961. She knocked me out of Wimbledon last year. I guess it's my turn to win again."

To reach the semifinals, Billie Jean had to knock out two favorites of the Wimbledon crown—Lesley Turner of Australia, seeded

Carreon Gets Lone Hit

Young Yankee Hurler Fires One-Hit Gem At White Sox

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fastballing young Al Downing fired the New York Yankees along with a sparkling one-hit pitching gem, and teen-aged right-hander Dave Morehead pulled the Boston Red Sox out of a spin with a two-hitter.

But the Minnesota Twins flexed batting muscle to keep their drive going in the American League Tuesday night.

Downing allowed only a bouncing single up the middle by Camilo Carreon with two out in the seventh inning in pitching the pace-setting Yankees to their fifth straight victory, a 3-0 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

The 19-year-old Morehead lost his no-hit bid on Fred Whitfield's bad-hop single leading off the eighth inning but brought the Red Sox home over the Cleveland Indians, 6-1.

Eighth Straight Kayo

The Twins scored their eighth kayo in a row, whipping Detroit 7-4 behind the home run power of Bob Allison and Jim Hall. That victory shoved streaking Minnesota into second place, three games behind New York and one-half game ahead of Chicago.

In other AL games, sub Al Smith's hitting led Baltimore over Los Angeles 4-3 and Washington's Bennie Daniels posted his second victory in six days over Kansas City, 7-2.

The Los Angeles Dodgers took the National League lead away from St. Louis, edging the Cardinals 1-0 on Don Drysdale's pitching. Elsewhere in the NL, a masterful pitching duel between San Francisco's Juan Marichal and Milwaukee's Warren Spahn was settled by Willie Mays' home run in the 16th inning that gave the Giants a 1-0 victory; Cincinnati clipped Houston 6-4; Pittsburgh squeezed by Philadelphia 3-2; and the Chicago Cubs beat the New York Mets 4-1.

The Escanaba Jaycee Little League organization will join the Centennial celebration Thursday with a playday at the league field starting at 9:30 a. m.

The new flag and pole will be presented to the league by the Escanaba VFW Post at 10 a. m.

Frank Bourke, president of the Little League, will act as master of ceremonies. Trophies will be awarded to players who win the throwing, batting and running contests.

Capping the program will be a game between Rotary and Credit Unions. Manager John Chylek of Rotary will start his righthander,

Former Athlete Visiting Here

William (Bill) Grosnick of Antigo, Wis., former outstanding Escanaba High School athlete, is visiting friends here during the Centennial.

Grosnick was a member of the 1968 Escanaba High School team that was undefeated and won the Upper Peninsula prep championship by defeating Houghton 36-0 in the final game of the season.

He left Escanaba for Antigo in 1921 and retired from service with the North Western Railway Co. in 1957.

Pole Vault Champ Seriously Injured

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Brian Sternberg, who has vaulted higher than any other athlete in the world, lay partially paralyzed in a hospital today following an accident incurred while he worked out on a trampoline.

Sternberg, whose 16-foot, 8-inch vault is pending as a world record, was hurt Tuesday evening as he practiced with the University of Washington gymnastics team. He was rated as one of the country's top trampoline performers. Doctors said X rays indicated a dislocation of the cervicle vertebra and possible damage to the spinal cord. They described the injury as critical, but after several hours of consultation ruled out immediate surgery.

Doctors would not say Sternberg's neck was broken, but did not discount the possibility of a fracture in the intricate series of bones involved. He was placed in traction.

A modest, personable blond, Sternberg set the pending world record at the Compton Invitational Meet June 7. He first conquered the 16-foot barrier at Milwaukee last March when he soared 16-3½. He cleared 16-5 in April and 16-7 two weeks before his record mark. Only a sophomore this past season, Sternberg never was defeated.

Sternberg was to have competed for the United States in the Soviet Union later this month.

The Seattle star, who just turned 20, rarely practiced pole vaulting, but kept in shape working out on the trampoline.

Doctors would not say Sternberg's neck was broken, but did

Juan Marichal Meal Ticket For Giants--Like Hubbell

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Not even Carl Hubbell would deny that the Giants have a new Meal Ticket—Juan Marichal.

Exactly 30 years—to the day—after Hubbell, the original Meal Ticket, pitched his greatest game by hurling the Giants to a 1-0, 18-inning triumph over St. Louis, Marichal came up with an amazingly similar performance in a 1-0, 16-inning victory over Milwaukee Tuesday night.

Marichal, a strong-armed right-hander who earlier this season pitched a no-hitter, battled for 4 hours and 10 minutes with Braves' starter Warren Spahn, the 42-year-old left-hander. Then, Willie Mays hit one out of Candlestick Park with one out in the last of the 16th, bringing a dramatic and sudden ending to one of baseball's greatest pitching battles.

Dodgers Take Lead

The struggle also stole the National League spotlight from the Los Angeles Dodgers, who took over first place from St. Louis by beating the Cardinals 1-0 on Don Drysdale five-hit pitching and Ron Fairly's run-scoring single.

The triumph moved the Dodgers out front by one-half game over the Cardinals, with the third-place Giants another one-half game back. Fourth-place Cincinnati crept to within 2½ games of the top as Gordy Coleman's tie-breaking two-run single carried the Reds to a 6-4 decision over Houston.

The fifth-place Chicago Cubs downed the New York Mets 4-1 and Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 3-2.

The American League-leading New York Yankees blanked the Chicago White Sox 3-0 on Al Downing's one-hitter, Minnesota took over second by defeating Detroit 7-4, Boston belted Cleveland 6-1, Baltimore nipped the Los Angeles Angels 4-3 and Washington took Kansas City 7-2.

Posts 13th Victory

Marichal, bringing his record to 13-3 with his ninth straight victory, scattered eight hits and struck out 10. Mays saved him in the fourth inning with a rifle throw from center field that cut down Norm Larker at the plate as he tried to score from second on Del Crandall's single.

Spahn, now 11-4, had pitched 27 consecutive scoreless innings going into the 16th. He had allowed

Nahma Open Golf Tournament Date Set For July 14

NAHMA—The annual Nahma Open golf tournament will be held Sunday, July 14, it was announced today by George E. LeBrasseur, tournament chairman.

Defending champion is Jerry Martin of Escanaba Highland who fired a 69, edging Dave Friets by one stroke.

Last year's field of 72 is expected to be topped this year and LeBrasseur announced that golfers may choose to play in either morning (9 a. m.) matches or at 1:15 p. m. The entry fee includes trophies, refreshments and green fees.

The tournament will again be over the 18 hole route with 1962 handicaps. Five winners will be listed in each class.

Deadline for entry is July 8. LeBrasseur stated that a team trophy will be awarded this year for the first time.

McKinley Beats German Netter

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Chuck McKinley of St. Louis, America's No. 1 player, paraded through Wilhelm Bungert of Germany, 6-2, 6-4, 8-6 today, to reach the finals of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships for the second time in three years.

McKinley, who has yet to lose a set in six matches, had little trouble with the lanky Bungert, who knocked off top-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia in a five-set quarter-final match.

McKinley was a finalist in 1961, when he lost to Rod Laver of Australia, now a pro. No American has won at Wimbledon since Tony Trabert in 1955, and McKinley is the only American to reach the finals since that year.

Robbie Boyum Scores Ace At Country Club

Robbie Boyum, former Escanaba Country Club member now residing in Traverse City, returned to his home course Tuesday to score the second hole-in-one of the season.

Boyum aced the 138 yard No. 3 hole from the back tee, shooting with a 7-iron. His ace helped him to a 44 on the round. He was golfing with Fred Shaw, Ed Flynn and Duane Johnson.

The only other hole-in-one here this season was turned in by Bill Eis Jr.

BATTING — Al Downing, Yankees, allowed only one hit, a bouncing single up the middle by Camilo Carreon in the seventh inning, and pitched the American League leaders to their fifth straight victory, 3-0 over the Chicago White Sox.

BATTING — Ron Fairly, Dodgers, put Los Angeles on top of National League standings.

Fairly got Drysdale, 10-9, the run he needed in the seventh after Frank Howard singled and reached second on Bill Skowron's infield out. That left Simmons' record at 7-4.

Extends Hit String

Trailing 3-2, the Reds scored the tying run in the seventh inning against the Colts on a run-producing double by Vada Pinson, who has hit in 20 straight games. Coleman then came through with his key single, winning it for Bob Purkey, 3-4. Don McMahon, 0-3, was the loser.

The Cubs exploited a throwing error by Mets pitcher Al Jackson, 6-8, scored three unearned runs in the second inning and held on behind the six-hit hurling of Bob Buhl, 7-5. Jackson threw Buhl's bunt away in the second after Andre Rodgers had singled, and a sacrifice fly by Lou Brock, a single by Ellis Burton and Billy Williams' double did the rest of the damage.

Two Barbershop Choruses Sing At Park Friday

Friday night will be barbershop harmony night on the Escanaba Centennial festivities program.

Two barbershop choruses, two male quartettes, a girls' quartette and a German band will be featured in the concert which starts at 8 p. m. Friday at the Karas Memorial Bandshell in Ludington Park.

The program will be opened by the Bay de Noc barbershop chorus, regional champions, under the direction of Paul Cowen of Gladstone. The singers will be attired in their colorful Centennial costumes and their selections will include several melodies of days gone by.

Providing a double attraction in the chorus harmony will be the popular barbershop chorus from Ishpeming, who will be guests on the program, singing some of their own favorites and then joining with the Escanaba-Gladstone chorus in an ensemble of about 60 men.

Railway Dispute Still Unsolved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chief negotiator for the nation's railroads said today there has been a "complete breakdown" in negotiations with five railroad unions on a dispute over work rules.

J.E. Wolfe, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference, said the operating unions had refused to accept any part of either of two sets of presidential board recommendations to settle the dispute.

He said the unions' refusal has "brought an end to the hollow mockery of collective bargaining on the issues involved."

"Thus, the period of grace requested by President Kennedy and agreed to by both the unions and management, will end on July 10 with the featherbedding dispute remaining unsolved," Wolfe told a news conference.

"The issues involved here have been submitted to impartial presidential boards of the highest competence and the railroads have accepted the recommendations of these boards even though they contained more than generous concessions to the unions."

Wolfe said that since every step of the Railroad Labor Act has been exhausted in an effort to reach an agreement with the unions, the companies today notified the unions that the new rules will be put into effect at 12:01 a.m. on Thursday, July 11.

Drive On Traffic Killings Planned

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's climbing traffic accident and fatality toll is the target of a program being mapped jointly by state officials and leaders of outside organizations.

In a two-hour meeting in Gov. George Romney's office Tuesday, the group backed a seven-point plan of action which includes recommendation for a depth analysis of Michigan's present activities in the field of traffic safety.

Suggested among long-range possibilities were several pieces of legislation to strengthen traffic laws, increase state police personnel and reinstate the Michigan State University Traffic Safety Center.

Among possible new laws discussed in the conference was one to require periodic safety inspections on vehicles, such as are in operation in other states.

The meeting resulted from concern expressed by the Safety Commission, which earlier endorsed a series of proposals and presented them to Romney for consideration.

Romney echoed the commission's concern over statistics showing traffic accidents rising over the past three years and a sudden jump this year in the number of fatalities.

Deaths have been ranging more than 100 ahead of 1962.

Application for a marriage license was made by the county clerk by Reginald L. Robinette of 301 S. 13th St. and Anna Marie Maki of Rock.

Useful Future Is Forecast For Delta's College

When Escanaba Senior High School, the city's second, was built in 1907, a hill stood on the site at 11th St. S. and 8th Ave. and the school was built atop the hill. It was before the bulldozer and excavator.

Tuesday evening in a ceremony on the 11th St. sidewalk before an audience on the steps leading up to the school, it was dedicated as Bay de Noc Community College.

The audience was a small one, only two hundred, but the event was one of the most significant in the history of Delta Area education. It formalized the first institution of higher learning in the area's history and the speakers made clear that the generosity and leadership which had created it has given a valuable new dimension to schooling here.

Former Teacher's Blessing

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin B. Melican, dean of the Delta County Catholic clergy, in the invocation asked blessings on "all those who have helped that it might resound in Your honor." The Dean taught at Escanaba High School in the 1920s.

President Richard L. Rinehart said the new college aims to make college level studies available to persons of all ages, to people of all abilities, to be interested in all the people, to serve all those who can profit by any type of education; to offer terminal courses that are programs of education complete in themselves, to offer transfer programs and technical institutions.

"We will encourage individual accomplishment," said Rinehart. John A. Lemmer, Escanaba and Michigan educational leader who was a counselor to Mrs. Catherine Bonifas in her benefactions, memorialized her.

"Fifteen years have passed since the death of Mrs. Bonifas and today we have another reminder of the generosity that filled her heart," said Lemmer. "She had no children of her own, but she has become a foster mother to thousands."

"Our new Escanaba Area High School, Holy Name High School, our special education rooms, our county and state office building, the chapel at Holy Cross Cemetery, substantial scholarships with a total value of more than a million dollars were all made possible in the entirety or in part by Mrs. Bonifas."

"Catherine Nolan came to this country a poor Irish immigrant girl when she was 17. She worked as a hired girl at Garden for $2.50 for a 70-hour week. There she met William Bonifas, a native of Luxembourg, a lumberjack and married him. She worked in her kitchen many a night until 2 or 3 o'clock baking bread so the crew could be fed the next day. She had breakfast ready at daybreak."

Unchanged By Wealth

"When wealth had come to them she remained the same Catherine Bonifas. She believed in the dignity of all labor and no work was too menial for her. Even when she was old and wealthy she scrubbed her kitchen floor on her knees and did the washing and ironing. She was always willing to help others and quietly gave away tens of thousands of dollars annually without any publicity, but she expected people to help themselves, too."

"I am sure that if she were alive today she would be proud that another of the objectives of her will has been realized. The area now has Bay de Noc Community College, helped into being by a gracious, generous lady who once was poor and hard-working, a kind, good lady with scarcely any formal education, who gave back to the people of her community the bounty that God had so lavishly given to her that they could have the best in educational opportunities. I know that her one request to you would be that you remember her in your prayers."

Electrode Plant Will Be Moved

Harnischfeger Corp. announced today it plans to close the firm's Milwaukee electrode plant and move its production facilities and research and development laboratory to a new location. Several locations are under study and the new location will be announced after negotiations have been completed.

Harnischfeger Corp. electrode plant, at 2151 S. Robinson Ave., Milwaukee employed approximately 120 production workers who were engaged in the production and development of welding electrodes for the firm's welding division.

The company said the possibility of moving the plant had been under study for five years. Extensive remodeling and additions to the existing plant had been studied and found unsatisfactory in view of the age, design and geographical location of the present facilities. Most of the present buildings were designed and built as a steel foundry shortly before World War I. These facilities were converted to welding electrode production during the 1930's.

The company cited as factors for its decision, strengthening of its position in the welding electrode industry thru increased sales of its present electrode product line as well as the introduction of a new welding electrode product line which has been under development for the past several years. This will require a large investment in a modern research and development laboratory as well as an efficient plant and up-to-date production and material handling equipment.

Another consideration is that inbound and outbound freight rates from the present Milwaukee location penalize the welding electrode division when competing in its marketing areas.

The welding division engineers, manufactures and markets welding machines and electrodes. It is one of the Harnischfeger Corp.'s major product divisions. Welding machines are produced in Escanaba, while electrode production had been centered in Milwaukee. The change will not affect the welding machine manufacturing in Escanaba.
